FASSETT TAKES IT

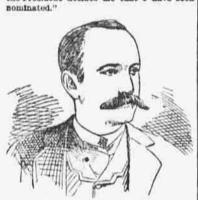

Formal Acceptance of the Collectorship of the Port.

Col. Erhardt Ready to Go Out on Saturday.

Barney Biglin and Lew Payn Say Erhardt Was a Load on the Party.

WARRINGTON, July 30 .- In the course of an interview this morning relative to his appointment as Collector of the Port of New York, Mr. Fassett, after being shown the despatch containing the news, said: "I had, of course, received an intimation that I might be named for the Collectorship, but as the hint did not come from the President or from any one who personally repre sented him, I did not feel at liberty to talk. Even now I hardly know what to say until the President notifies me that I have been when was preparing to bearn in estemants of the substance and responsibility is on the anxious seat again. With the coming in of Senator Fassett it is possible that the heads of all the present chiefs of departments will fall into the basket.

Not immediately, perhaps, but as soon as the new Collector han a chance to settle down to business, take in the situation and discuss matters with his chief, ex-Senator Thomas c. Flatt, who now rules the Republican roost in this State beyond a doubt.

Special Deputy Collector J. J. Couch, who is also Chief Clerk of the Customs; Cashier W. L. Bostwick, Deputies John H. Gunner, Wilson Berryman, W. G. Williams, Denis Shea, Charles A. Burr, Levi M. Gano, Dudley F. Phelps and Auditor Henry G. Stanwood, who formed Collector Erhardts privy council and cabinet advisers, may be removed at any time by the new Collector in and their places filled with men of his own

It is believed that the present arrangement was all cut and dried several weeks ago and that the appointment of Senator Fassett was a foregone conclusion as soon as Collector Erhardt had sent in his resignation. When Collector Erhardt, who was at his ductors and drivers of the West End Street

Col. Erhardt also said that he had not ye received any formal notice of the acceptance of his resignation by the President, but that did not seem to trouble him much. He is getting ready to move out to-morrow for good. He has nothing more to say in regard to the causes for his resignation than he has stated already formally. "I have resigned because the Collector has been reduced to a position where he is no longer an independent officer, with authority commensurate with his responsibility.

"I am not willing to continue to be responsible for the conduct of those employed under me unless I can have proper authority over them.

"The Collector is practically deprived of power and control, while he is left subject to all responsibility.

"The office is no longer independent, and I am. Therefore we have separated."

Ka-Senator Platt has not been seen in the Custom House for the past two years, although before that he was a pretty regular visitor there. It is no secret that he and the Collector have been "out," for many moons, or that the astute Republican politician has been on a still hunt for the Colonel's scalp ever since he found that he could not manage thim.

COLLECTOR KELLT REMOVED.

To-day a letter from Washington announced the removal of the Assistant Collector of the New Jersey District. The present incumbent is Thomas Kelly, a hold over from the last Administration. His headquarters are in Jersey City, and he gets $2,000 a year The office is one filled by Presidential appointment, but the assistant is supposed to report to the Collector of New York. So far as is known there are no duties connected with the office, and it is said that no Collector has ever received a report from Mr. Kelly or ever seen him. He has stuck closely to Jersey. It is believed that the office will now be abolished.

The following appointments on the custodians force were amounced to-day from Washington: John F. Franklin, engineer, salary $1.000; Alfred J. F. Wainman, William H. Hayden, Orrin Holden and C. A. Morehouse, watchmen, Baiary $840; Fred Savage, fireman, $720; John Nash, Daniel Van Horn, Patrick Reynolds and John P. Williams, laborers, $720 each; James H. McManus, foreman of laborers, $840; Margaret Stack, Julia Murphy, Hildegarde Glatt, Jeannette M. Johnson, Mary Feeney and Anna Upsher, charwomen, $300 each; Sarah Dinen, head charwoman, $420. $380 cach; Sarah Dinen, nead $420.
Many of these were reappoitned after having been removed by the previous order of the Department.

The corridors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel were filled with big Republican politicians from all over the State this morning. They were grouped in knots of from three to haif a dozen and were all busy talking, but if the recent resignation of Collector Joel B. Erhards and the appointment of State Senator J. Sloat Fassett to succeed him was the subject of their conversation that race could not be learned.

They were talking about anything and everything size when The Pressure Were

They were talking about anything and everything else when THE EVENING WORLD reporter approached them, and each declared that the situation had been accepted with the

that the situation had been accepted with the least possible comment.

Congressman Sereno E. Payne, of Auburn, who had come to the city to attend the meeting of the State Committee as a proxy for the Chairman, Gen. John N. Knapp, when asked what he thought of Senator Fassett as Collector of the Port, said:

"He will make a good one."
"And what of Collector Erhardt?" persisted the reporter in an endeavor to get some expression of opinion regarding the change.

"He has made a good one," was the laconic
esponso given by the man of perpetual miles.

Col. George W. Dunn, the State Committeenan from the Binghamton District, was more ommunicative on the subject.

"I am glad to hear of Senator Fassett's apcointment," said he. "I do not think the tepublican party will lose by putting him in the Custom-House.

Republican party will lose by putting him in the Custom-House.

"Collector Erhardt is undoubtedly an honest man and, no doubt, has been conscientious in the discharge of his duties; still the truth of the matter is that his course has helped the Democrats somewhat."

Col. Dunn here cited an example of Collector Erhardt's methods which he thought had helped the Democracy.

BRHARDT A LOAD ON THE PARTY.

"When Mr. Erhardt went into office," said he, "there were twenty-six Democrata from Broome County in the Custom-House. Nearly all of them are there yet. Only two Repub-licans have been appointed from there since he went into office, and one of them has been sacrificed in the recent shake-up.

"Our people will be enthusiastic over Sena-tor Fassett's appointment. You see he re-sides in a neighboring county, and is ac-counted a neighbor by all of us."

counted a neighbor by all of us.

Subsequently he said he was totally unpresented to say what his administrative policy would be. The appointment had come to min so suddenly, he said, that he was hardly able as yet to realize what it meant. He admitted that he had accepted it and said that he expected to take active control of the onice about Aug. 1. He would leave here to-night for New York and would then proceed to his home at Elmira to arrange his private affairs.

REALING ARRIVATION AND IN SECURITY, and Is accounted a neighbor by all of us.

Ex-United States Marshal Louis F. Payn. State Committeeman from the Columbia District and Thomas C. Platt's First Lieutenant in the river countries, said that if Mr. Erhardt never had been appointed Collector the Republican party would be botter off to-day by thousands of votes.

He declared that President Harrison should have appointed Senator Fassett originally, and that his recognition at this time demonstrates that the Executive is learning some-thing of politics.

Bernard Biglin, leader of the Eighteenth As-sembly District, who wanted the contract for carting imported goods to and from the Pub-lic Stores and didn't get. it, said that he knew of no official whose departure from office would be the occasion of less regret among Republicans.

DUBLIN, July 30.—Messars. William O'Rrien and John Dillon, the two Irish members of Parliament who have been undergoing sentence of imprisonment for inciting the tenants of the Smith-Barry estate at Tipperary to resist payment of rents, were released from Galway Jall at 9.25 o'clock this morning. They showed but slight traces of having suffered from the rigors of confinement in jail, and seemed to be enjoying the most per-feet health. Large crowds of people gathered outside the jall long before the hour set for the deliverance of the two imprisoned Irish leaders, and no sooner were the two Members of Parliament free from the prison surroundings than a deputation composed of tenant farmers pre-sented them with several addresses of congratulation upon their release from prison.

Mrs. William O'Brien, the wife of the well-known member of Parliament, was waiting in a carriage outside the jail for her husband. whom she welcomed back to liberty in a most affectionate manner, amid the cheers of the surrounding crowd.

After replying briefly to the addresses of welcome and shaking hands with a number of the most prominent people present, both Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Brien entered Mrs. O'Brien's carriage and were driven, followed by repeated cheers and showers of good wishes, to the residence of Bishop McCormack, where the entire party were entertained at

In Irish political circles the main question w under discussion is as to the part Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon will take in the reorganiration of the Irish Parliamentary party The Parnellites, of course, expect the two Carthyltes seem to be confident that they will aide with the anti-Paruellites. The general opinion is that the two re eased leaders will take a middle or concilia tory course, and that their combined efforts will be directed towards healing the differences existing and reorganizing the Irish Parliamentary party as promptly as possible, so that at the approaching general election

Meeting of the State Committee

The Republican State Convention Will

This Morning. Chairman Knapp Sends Word that

He Will Not Resign.

It was after 11 o'clock this morning when Secretary John S. Kenyon, of Syracuse, called the Republican State Committee to order in Parlor D R, of the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Chairman John N. Knapp, of Auburn, who is quite iii, was advised by his physician not to attend. He sent as his proxy Congressman sereno E. Payne.

Mr. Payne reported the sick Chairman as improving in health daily, and announced authoritatively that he would not resign the chairmanship, as had been expected, but balance of his term. Among the other committeemen and proxies who filled the hotel corridors before the meet Charles A. Chickering, of Copenhagen: Hobart Krum, of Scoharie; John C. Barry, of Cort-land; George W. Dunn, of Binghamton, and Assemblyman C. R. Parsons, of Rochester.

There were but two committeemen who vere not present or represented by bey were E. L. Adams, of Elmire, and Frank Moulton, of Batavia.
 The other members of the Committee or their proxies who participated in its delibera-tions were, according to Congressional dis-tricts.

The first business after the presentation of credentials and proxies was the fixing of a date for the holding of the State Convention. The Committee was unanimously in favor of Wednesday Sept. 9.

Over the selection of the place for holding the Convention there was much strift.

the Convention there was much strifts.

Delegations were present from Haratoga, Syracuse and Rochester, each unging the claims of its favorite city.

Alderman Benjamin Stevenson headed that from Syracuse and was backed by Clerk Renyon, of the Committee, and Committeeman Barry, from that Concressional district.

The Rochester delegation was headed by Clerk Renyon, of the committeeman, George W. Aldridge, formed an invitable team.

As orators they may not have had the force of the other talkers, but they had many good and sufficient reasons for the private ear of the Committee why Rochester should be chosen.

As a result of their diligent work twenty of the thirty-three votes cast were for the Prower City. Bix votes were cast for Saratoga, four for Syracuse, two for Albany and one for Utlea. The New York delegation was solid for Rochester.

The Convention will be held in the Lyceum Theatre which has a seating capacity of 1,800.

One of the reasons why Rochester was chosen is said to be that Mr. Platt is anxious to secure the next Legislature and particularly the Senate, and he thinks that the holding of the Convention in Rochester may help him to wrest the Monroe District, now represented by Senator Donald McNaughton, from the Democracy.

The district is Republican by 3,000 and ex-Mayor Parsons is expected to be the Republican candidate.

The State Committeeman from there, too, hopes to be nominated for Comptroller, which may account for his earnest endeavors to secure the holding of the convention in his own city.

The Committee adjourned to meet in the Powers Hotel, Rochester, the day preceding the Convention.
